Meandering Along the Main Stem By WASH FAYETTE

The one and only Doc Waddell . . . one of the most colorful of the many colorful characters on the pages of Washington C. H. history . . . has been back in town . . . he made calls on the few of his old friends of the older generations still left . . . then went out to the cemetery to pray over the graves of the 30-odd old time circus men buried there . . . and he held a special "one man remembrance" service, as he called it, for his "gone-on" friends, the late Judge John J. Harper and C. Howard Griffith.

Doc Waddell, now past his 80th birthday, has had a singular life . . . to put it mildly . . . he describes himself as the dean of press agents . . . and it would seem that there are few who could challenge him . . . he is the only circusman ever to become a bona fide preacher . . . from whence he came nobody seems to rightly know . . . but as a young man he studied law in the office of Judge Harper . . . that was back before the turn of this century . . . for a time he was associated with him in private practice as his investigator and he boasted "we never lost a criminal case" . . . but law, exciting as it was in those days, was a bit too confining and too prosaic for the adventurous and personable Doc Waddell . . . he joined the circus . . . then became the press agent for the original John G. Robinson Circus . . . he saw life in the raw . . . he lived it that way and enjoyed it to the fullest . . . then he "got religion" and became a preacher . . . the years were slipping by and Doc Waddell apparently found solace in his sacred communion and peace and contentment in his preaching . . . but there was to be no end to his roving.

Saturday he "registered in" in Washington C. H. as he put it . . . after visiting his old friends, he went to the jail to hold services . . . of that he said: "My experience there was remarkable, for I had a congregation of only one and that speaks well for good old Washington C. H." . . . during prohibition times, he continued, just two towns beat that record: "I preached to empty cells in Hillsdale, Mich., and Stockton, Tex., . . . not a jailbird there and it was drier than a bone without marrow."

Saturday night he moved on as has long been his custom . . . as past grand patron of the Eastern Star, he said he was going to Jamestown to give his message at the annual O. E. S. inspection meeting . . . Sunday he was to preach in the county jail and workhouse and for the Salvation Army . . . his headquarters in Columbus.

When Private James DeLong was called here from Pomona, Calif., by the death of his father, Sherman DeLong, his company wired $10 to Miss Mary Robinson, secretary of the Fayette County Red Cross chapter, asking that flowers be purchased and the company's card attached to the basket of flowers.

The request was carried out by Miss Robinson and when young DeLong learned of the action of his comrades in arms, he was deeply touched.

It was a fine gesture on the part of his company, and one that James will long remember.

While Forrest McAllister and his dad were walking through one of the fields on their farm the other day they came across a pheasant's nest containing 18 eggs.

After waiting and watching for a few days and the mother of the eggs didn't show up Forrest took them home and placed them under one of their hens.

Yesterday the eggs hatched and now the McAllister's have 17 baby pheasants.

When these birds grow a little larger they may help the McAllister's and the meat shortage. Or will they?

WAR ON JAPAN TO BE STEPPED UP, INDICATION

Large Body of Troops Has Reached New Zealand Direct from America

AID TO CHINA PROMISED

Meanwhile, Action Flares in Aleutians and in Islands Of South Pacific

(By the Associated Press)
A large body of American troops recently arrived in New Zealand from the United States and is undergoing intensive training alongside veterans from Guadalcanal preparatory to being sent to a combat zone, Rear Admiral Theodore Wilkinson, deputy commander in the South Pacific area, announced today.

This disclosure, implying that new blows against the Japanese were impending, coincided with the news that Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the United States Pacific fleet, had arrived in the United States for the latest of a series of world-wide Allied strategy conferences.

U. S. Fleet Bolstered
The U. S. Pacific fleet, steadily being reinforced, will reach formidable proportions by the end of this year, says it commander-in-chief, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, who is on the mainland to confer on new offensive moves against the Japanese.

Admiral Nimitz disclosed his presence in continental United States yesterday in a surprise appearance at the University of California commencement exercises during which he was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Speaking to a university alumni meeting, the admiral explained, "Much as I desire to be here, I couldn't have left my post unless I had a job to do. I am happy that commencement day coincided with a conference which I have been called on to attend—a conference which is not particularly solicitous as to the welfare of Hirohito, and which I hope will carry trouble to the Japanese." He did not amplify.

WHITE AND NEGRO PAY DIFFERENTIALS BANNED

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(AP)—Pay differentials between white and Negro labor were under War Labor Board ban today, governed by a decision in a case from Texas.

Directing the Southport Petroleum Company of Texas City to increase the pay of its Negro employees to parity with white workers of the same classification, the board held that "economic and political discrimination on account of race or creed is in line with the Nazi program."

Ammunition Ship Rams Tanker And 84 Lost In Blast

NORFOLK, Va., June 7.—(AP)—Eighty-four men lost their lives in terrific explosions and blazing oil when an American tanker and an American freighter loaded with ammunition collided in the dark a few days ago off the United States East Coast.

The Navy announced the collision yesterday and said an investigation is being made.

So tremendous were the explosions that debris was showered on the decks of a coast guard ship a quarter of a mile away.

The blast killed 66 of the 69 men aboard the freighter, tore the ship to pieces and sent her to the bottom almost immediately after the collision. Eighteen of the tanker's 82 seamen perished in the flames.

The victims included 35 members of Navy gun crews. The two ships, survivors said, were proceeding in opposite directions when the freighter veered suddenly and rammed her bow into the tanker's port side.

Deck Cadet W. J. Leonard, 21, of Malverne, N. Y., who was in the tanker's wheelhouse said the freighter's course was changed suddenly and the ships came together in a glancing blow.

The impact knocked Leonard down—and saved his life.

"The amidships house was quickly ringed by flames," he related, "and a sheet of flame swept through while I was on the floor. The captain, the first, second and third mates, six Navy gunners, and two signalmen were in the house.

"I believe they were all lost. They must have swallowed the flames."

The deck cadet escaped from the amidships house, jumped overboard and later climbed on a life raft carrying about 20 men.

They were picked up by a naval ship.

Martin Varnell, 30, of Houston, Tex., a messman, was asleep at the time. Awakened by a shipmate, he fled from his smoke-filled quarters to the deck.

"I saw three men dead on the poop deck," Varnell said. "I believe they were Navy gunners. One had his arms and legs blown off."

RAINBOW DIVISION IS BEING REBUILT

MUSKOGEE, Okla., June 7.—(AP)—A rainbow in the sky—the omen that impressed the Rainbow division of the first world war—has returned to inspire the second unit to bear that famous name.

The new division will be activated at Camp Gruber July 14, the 25th anniversary of the old outfit's advance into the Champagne front.

The Rainbow division originally was so named because it drew its men from many different sections of the nation, but—

"It is a historical fact that in overseas action during the first World War the Rainbow Division consistently was greeted by a real rainbow in the sky before embarking on every important mission," Capt. Harry Gowdy of the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga., wrote Brig. Gen. Harry J. Collins, Commanding General of the new Rainbow Division.

Gowdy, once a big league baseball player, should know. He was a color sergeant in the old Rainbow outfit.

"This is significant," Gowdy wrote, "because it appears the same harbinger of good fortune will accompany the new Rainbow Division. On May 10th, the first day of the activation of the officer cadre of the new Rainbow Division at Fort Benning, there appeared in the sky a beautiful rainbow over the barracks occupied by the officers of the division."

WLB IS SILENT ON NEW CRISIS

Another Threat to Coal Production in Two Weeks Held Up by Lewis

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(AP)—The bulk of John L. Lewis' half-million coal miners trudged back to their pits today under a fourth truce agreement even as indications appeared of a new crisis in the prolonged dispute—reports of dissension among the southern operators.

Hours after the men returned to work—with a few exceptions—the UMW chieftain and his aides closeted themselves briefly with operator representatives to discuss the next step in their interrupted negotiations.

A few minutes after the group retired behind closed doors, Lewis emerged to report that the miners had recessed to permit an operators' caucus. He said the negotiators had received no word from the War Labor Board, which last week ordered the contract talks halted until actual production had been resumed, and added he had no other comment.

The WLB also was silent, but a board official who declined use of his name said he doubted that the board would issue formal instructions for a resumption of negotiations. As he put it, "the miners and operators would be smart just to go ahead," without waiting for a WLB nod.

Interest in the wage dispute shifted from the miners, who "no contract, no work" stand last week set war production plants back more than 10,000,000 tons (Please Turn to Page Three)

The comrades got back safely in short order, but Clarence wasn't found until he walked footsore and weary into camp the following afternoon with his feathers so coated with oil that he was unable to fly.

Three Battleships Blasted by Flying Fortresses at La Spezia; Aerial Assault on Germany Tapers Off Mysteriously While Revival of Severe Fighting Expected in Russia

By CARL C. CRANMER

(By the Associated Press)

Pantelleria Island, the "Italian Gibraltar" which has been all but pulverized by weeks of aerial and naval pounding, bore the scars of a new round-the-clock American bombing offensive today as a continuing series of strategy conferences focused attention on Allied invasion preparations.

Pantelleria, standing on the possible ferry route of an invasion army, underwent a series of heavy assaults both through Saturday night and Sunday, an Allied headquarters communique said, while U. S. airmen from the desert air force pounded with their four-engined bombers at both sides of Messina Strait, between Sicily and the Italian mainland.

MORE CONFUSION FOR ARGENTINA

Revolt Leaders Split and Country Is Left Without Government or Policy

BUENOS AIRES, June 7.—(AP)—Gen. Arturo Rawson resigned as head of Argentina's new government today and charged Gen. Pedro Ramirez with organizing a new regime after the two revolutionary leaders had failed to agree on the constitution of a cabinet.

Rawson, who ousted President S. Castillo in a coup d'etat last Friday, was to have been sworn in as president at noon today.

In a brief communique, he announced "the impossibility of reaching an agreement on the constitution of a new cabinet" had compelled him to resign "as leader of the revolutionary forces and chief of the provisional government."

At the same time Ramirez, Minister of War under Castillo and slated to hold the same post under Rawson, issued a statement advising the people and the armed forces he had assumed the powers abandoned by Rawson.

He also announced postponement of today's scheduled swearing-in ceremonies for which a national holiday had been decreed. There was no indication as to when the Ramirez administration might be sworn in.

The rapid change in Argentina's confusing political situation followed by only a few hours the issuance of decree by Rawson dissolving congress, which was to have convened tomorrow.

There were no further details on the disagreement between the two leaders of the revolution.

Some observers expressed the opinion, however, Rawson had (Please Turn to Page Two)

FARM SUBSIDY HIT BY GRANGE MASTER

Inflation Inevitable Under Plan He Says

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(AP)—Albert S. Goss, master of the National Grange, told a Senate Agriculture sub-committee today that if the government employs subsidy payments to roll back food prices the nation "is headed directly for inflation and inevitable chaos."

Any attempt to bolster what he termed an unsound system of price controls by subsidy will lead, Goss added, to a food shortage for America and her allies.

While the Grange leader expressed belief the price control act disclosed congressional intent to forbid payment of subsidies for agricultural products, he urged enactment of legislation specifically denying use of government funds for such purposes.

Corn-Hog Price Ratio Creates Farm Problem

CHICAGO, June 7.—(AP)—With the profit involved in feeding corn to hogs currently much lower than a year ago, and with some livestock producers encountering difficulty in obtaining the yellow grain, agricultural observers today predicted farmers might be forced to liquidate underweight hogs.

Declining profit margins in feeding corn to hogs has resulted from a drop in hog prices while corn has remained unchanged at ceilings. The difficulty in obtaining corn for feeding arises from the unwillingness of many farmers who have a surplus of the grain to sell it at the present time.

Big Contingent of American Fliers and Equipment Reaches Britain

NEW BOMBING POLICY, TIP

Attack on Europe Through Spain Feared by Axis, Reports Indicate

LONDON, June 7.—(AP)—The Eighth U. S. Army Air Force was expanded today by the arrival of another large contingent of airmen and equipment, and already-feverish invasion speculation was heightened by Prime Minister Churchill's continuing round of conferences believed to bear directly on the Washington war strategy meeting and his visit to North Africa.

For military reasons the strength of the U. S. air unit was kept secret, but it is known bombers and their crews have streamed across the Atlantic as the weather improved and that ground personnel, bombs and other equipment have been arriving regularly.

The lull in the aerial onslaught to soften Europe for land invasion continued into its ninth day. The last heavy rains were May 29, when U. S. fliers hammered Rennes and St. Nazaire and the RAF smashed at Wuppertal.

New Bombing Policy

Bad weather over the continent was given as the reason for the lay-off, although there was some speculation the heavy bombers had shifted to the Mediterranean area for concentrated action on that potential invasion front. The Daily Mail said the RAF had a new bombing policy—giant raids aimed at obliterating a large industrial center in a single night.

The RAF struck at channel shipping and French coastal districts Sunday and Nazi fighter-bombers hit at a southeast coastal town, which the German radio said was Eastbourne.

The invasion guessing continued in London's press, with the Daily Herald declaring General George C. Marshall, U. S. Army chief of staff, probably would head invasion forces in the Mediterranean theater while a British general might direct any invasion against the northern European coast.

The Daily Express said the (Please Turn to Page Two)

ANTI-STRIKE LAW IS EXPECTED SOON

Congress Spurred To Action By Mine Troubles

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(AP)—Final congressional approval before June 20 of anti-strike legislation designed to prevent another coal mine walkout on that date was predicted today by Senator Connally (D-Tex.).

With conferees scheduled to meet either late in the day or tomorrow to consider senate and house differences, the tall Texan said he would press for action to get the Connally-Harness bill on President Roosevelt's desk before the latest deadline laid down by the United Mine workers when they agreed to resume work today and reopen their wage negotiations with the operators.

The revised measure approved by the House Friday would provide for punishment of persons who incited or aided strikes halting production in war plants or mines operated under government direction, a provision directly affecting the coal wage dispute.

Exactly how many planes are being delivered by ferry pilots from the United States "is a secret which the enemy would be glad to get," Col. Turner said.

FAYETTE COUNTY MAN KILLED IN NORTH AFRICA

War Department Announces Death of Walter L. Neal, Neal in Battle

The War Department Monday announced the death of Private Walter L. Neal, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Neal, now residing in Madison township near Waterloo, who met death in action in North Africa a few weeks ago.

No details were given of his death, and it was learned that his family had been notified a short time ago, through Bloomingburg.

Walter was a member of a large family. He was born in Portsmouth and was inducted into the U. S. Armed forces from Fayette County on August 5, 1941.

He was 25 years of age, and has two or three brothers in the U. S. Service, and also several other brothers and sisters, according to meager information obtained regarding him and his family.

Until two weeks ago the family resided on the Roy Hagler farm on the Hyde Road, a few miles north of Bloomingburg, but they moved to near Waterloo and could not be reached by telephone.

WAR FRAUD CHARGE WON'T BE RESISTED

Wire and Cable Co. Case To Be Heard Thursday

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 7.—(P)—Federal Judge Thomas W. Slick announced today he had been assured by attorneys for the government and the Anacosta Wire and Cable Company, Inc., that a plea of nolo contendere would be entered by the company and five of its personnel indicted in alleged $5,000,000 war fraud case.

Judge Slick said "therefore the jurors have been notified that their attendance will not be required. The matter is set for disposition Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at Fort Wayne.

A nolo contendere plea means that a defendant does not resist the charge.

BIGGER U. S. NAVY NOW CONTEMPLATED

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(P)—Navy is planning a new $3,922,637,400 ship construction program involving 480,000 tons of vessels ranging in size from small boats to aircraft carriers and heavy cruisers, Congress learned today.

Disclosure of plans for this new program came in testimony by Rear Admiral E. L. Cochrane, chief of the Bureau of Ships, made public today by the Senate Appropriations committee.

Cochrane told the committee in addition to the 600 ships of all types the navy expects to complete in the new fiscal year beginning July 1, it has made plans for utilization of the tonnage previously authorized Congress.

been considered from the very first as not quite in line with the ultra rightist political tinge of his new ministers.

Ramirez was generally regarded as having more pronounced rightist tendencies than Rawson, but the effect his leadership would have on Argentina's foreign policy was not immediately clear.

(Dispatches from Montevideo said that observers there who are mainly interested in Argentina's foreign policy, said that nothing had yet happened either to confirm or deny initial assurances following Castillo's ouster that the revolution would mean the end of Argentina's aloof attitude toward Pan American solidarity.)

Diplomatic representatives of other American Republics have met three times since the Friday coup, but have maintained a "watch and wait" attitude. It was assumed they were awaiting the formal communications might be expected.

(Radio broadcasts indicated that Germany and Japan also were watching the situation closely.)

DAVID DUNCAN DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Funeral Service To Be Held Wednesday Afternoon

David R. Duncan, 77, who lived his early life in Rock Mills before going to work for the Detroit Scale Manufacturing Co., in plants in both Detroit and Dayton, died at the Carr Rest Home at 4 o'clock Monday morning, following an extended illness.

Mrs. Duncan died in 1894 but he is survived by a son, Durwood R. Duncan, of Cincinnati. A brother, John Duncan, and a sister, Miss Emma Duncan, still live at Rock Mills.

Funeral services are to be held at the Klever Funeral Home at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and interment will be in the Greenfield Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

MRS. WILLIAM DEWEES FUNERAL SERVICES

Largely attended funeral services for Mrs. William DeWees were held at the Klever Funeral Home, Saturday at 2 P. M. and were conducted by Rev. George B. Parkin, who paid a personal tribute to Mrs. DeWees, speaking of her long Christian life and many lovely traits of character.

Rev. Parkin also read "I Will Meet You at the Eastern Gate" and "Jesus Savior Pilot Me."

There were many beautiful floral tributes.

Burial was made at the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Joe Fortier, Frank Fortier, Will Craig, Howard Fogle, Wilbur Morgan and Norman McLean.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWees celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary last Christmas. They spent their entire married life at 711 S. Sycamore Street.

Those attending the services from out of the city included:

Mrs. W. L. Herron, James Herron and Mrs. Charles Brower, of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Herchelrode, Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. DeWees, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. ALLIED INVASION FORCE IN BRITAIN GROWING; HITLER MORE JITTERY

North African conferences, attended by Churchill, Gen. Marshall and Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, "put the finishing touches to the United Nations' summer campaign," and that Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth U. S. Army would play a large role.

The invasion-conscious Germans clamped another state of emergency on the Norwegian port of Bergen, a potential landing point, and it was disclosed that German defensive demolitions had blasted a 600-yard wide belt, with anti-tank ditches more than a mile from the sea, clear across the four miles of The Hague, Holland.

The Morocco radio reported new mass arrests of persons along the French coast who might have aided Allied invaders. A Spanish report said Gibraltar was practically bare of shipping.

By JOHN COLBURN

STOCKHOLM, June 7.—(P)—Dispatches from Berlin and Rome today said Axis leaders were expressing fears the Allies may strike a hard invasion blow through Spain.

Observers here immediately surmised the reports, filtered through strict censorship, might be the prelude to German and Italian plans to march into Spain to set up air bases to defend the "European fortress" better.

It also was recalled that General Francisco Franco was reported to have said he would call on the other side for assistance, should the Allies or Axis invade Spain.

Rome dispatches said the Italian press had warned the Allies may strike through Spain, still weak from the blood letting of the long civil war.

Spain would provide either belligerent with good air bases. For the Allies, observers said, it would be an ideal bridgehead from which to furnish aerial cover for landing operations in western or southern France.

Experience And Hard Work Combined To Make 'The War Today' Top Column

He piles out of bed at four in the morning to interpret the war news and winds up his day writing a book.

He works with his bag packed and sometimes chases a general a thousand miles for an interview.

He gave up a job directing Associated Press foreign correspondents the world over to return to reporting himself.

The result is the country's most widely-read newspaper column—by De Witt Mackenzie, column, "The War Today" appears in the Record-Herald and 800 to 900 more newspapers in the United States and Canada.

The other day, tall, heavy-set Mackenzie stood in the stadium of Syracuse University and heard his 33 years' reporting in 50 countries extolled as a distinguished contribution to journalism. He was given the George Arents medal for his "many outstanding achievements as a chronicler and interpreter of world news." Thereby hangs a story of real newspapering.

It began with Mackenzie talking his way out of an on-the-spot execution during the Irish rebellion in 1916. With characteristic aplomb he has reported most of the world's big news ever since.

Mackenzie was one of the few correspondents attached to British General Headquarters during the first World War.

He was the first foreign correspondent ever to be allowed in Egypt after the start of World War I.

He reported the Versailles Peace Conference.

He served as Associated Press chief of bureau in London and as chief of the entire Associated Press foreign service.

Shortly after Munich in 1939, Mackenzie broke the story of the Allies' abandonment of their appeasement policy. That was after he had followed Prime Minister Chamberlain to the fateful conferences with Hitler at Berchtesgaden, Godesberg and Munich. Later, he reported the Nazi march into Czechoslovakia when the Reich annexed Sudetenland.

Throughout the life of the German - Russian non-aggression pact, Mackenzie prophesied that eventually the two nations were bound to go to war.

With practiced eye, he saw that Hitler was "breaking his back" and making one of the great blunders in history weeks before the final debacle at Stalingrad and he predicted a quick collapse of the Axis war machine in Tunisia just when the fighting appeared hardest.

Mackenzie's record runs like that, but the pleasant unassuming columnist would be the first to disclaim any special insight. Instead, he chalks it all up to hard work and experience.

Recently, the war analyst whose hair is now shot with gray but whose movements still are trigger-like, returned to New York from a "refresher" jaunt to 18 countries. He traveled 35,000 miles, most of the time crouched in the corner of a big army transport plane, visited London, New Delhi and Chungking. He was gone four and a half-months and interviewed scores of celebrities. He chased General Montgomery hundreds of miles across the Libyan desert to get one of the great interviews of the war.

Writing "The War Today" column presents a wicked pace. Mackenzie sets his alarm for 4 A. M. catches a train from suburban Bronxville to Manhattan at 5:00 and is at his desk by 6. Immediately, he begins poring over the news reports and by 8:45 his interpretative column is rolling to hundreds of newspapers. The fact the column is written for afternoon newspapers and that it must beup the minute imposes on Mackenzie this extraordinarily difficult schedule.

At 8:45 he eats breakfast, then until noon lines up material for the next day, sometimes writing a new lead for the column, depending on last minute news breaks around the world. Occasionally, at noon he goes to the gym for a brief workout but often he must fill a speaking engagement. At 3 he heads back to Bronxville and more work in his study. Since his recent 35,000 mile trip to Europe, Africa and Asia he has been working overtime on a book "India's Problem Can Be Solved" to be published in August. At 5:30 Mackenzie eats with his wife and two children, Kent 13, and Carol 12. Barring social engagements, which he doesn't like, and a frequent call back to the office for an extraordinary news development, the columnist is in bed by 8.

All of which calls for a rugged constitution and a good philosophy but Mackenzie has both.

He is a tall, forthright son of a Vermont minister and he worked as farmhand, schoolteacher and traveling salesman before he put himself through Syracuse University conducting an orchestra.

After graduating from Syracuse in 1907 Mackenzie worked on newspapers for two years in upstate New York and then joined The Associated Press. He got his start as a foreign correspondent during the Irish Easter Rebellion of 1916—a start which nearly caused his end when he was mistaken for a rebel and almost executed.

The aerial assault on Pantelleria Island followed its fifth bombardment in a week by units of the British Navy.

These attacks obviously were designated to knock out the island's defenses preparatory to actual landing attempts.

In all phases of the war Italy's position appeared to be growing more desperate.

Some of the returning airmen said bombs fell among three 35,000-ton battleships, the Littorio, Vittorio Veneto and the Roma, damaging at least one and possibly all three, damaging a heavy cruiser, blowing up a merchant ship and doing great damage to port installations.

A British Admiralty communique yesterday one submarine had shelled an airfield on the north Corsican coast, while others had sunk six ships, damaged a seventh and probably torpedoed an eighth in forays into the Gulf of Genoa, Caania Bay, off Monte Carlo on the Riviera, the Gulf of Policastro south of Naples and the straits between Sardinia and Corsica.

The Axis continued to pour air strength into the defense of Pantelleria and some fierce air battles ensued.

The Allied communique said eight of the enemy fighters were shot down and the Americans lost one plane.

The fiercest battle occurred when 50 American Liberators attacked Messina in Sicily, and San Giovanni and Reggio Calabria across the straits in Italy. They encountered 30 enemy fighters. The Cairo communique said eight of the interceptors were shot down without an American loss.

Action in Russia

Citizens of Moscow looked forward to another significant week of aerial warfare today as they went to work reading of the Red Air Force's reported achievements in knocking down 752 German planes to Russian losses of 212 from May 30 through June 5.

The week's air battles brought German losses to 2,821 planes during the last five weeks, Russian dispatches said.

Russian communiques continued to ignore German radio reports of violent fighting on the central front between Smolensk and Velikie Luki.

The Soviet midnight communique, describing Sunday fighting, said German forces attack in the Sevesk area, "attempting to win back positions lost the day before."

American bombers and fighters supporting the advancing central Chinese armies on the western Hupeh front carried out widespread operations against the Japanese Sunday, a communique from Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stillwell's headquarters said today.

They swept the Yangtze from Ichang to Shashi, damaged one large boat and raked a gunboat with strafing fire, among other things, the communique said.

Chinese dispatches meanwhile said Chiang Kai-Shek's forces were battering their way toward Hwajung, a Hunan province town 100 miles southeast of the main Japanese base of Ichang.

The Army is using a butter which resists melting up to 110 degrees.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Growing Allied Air Power Explodes Hitler's Boast That Germany Can't Be Conquered

What justification is there for the German claim that even though the Allies invade southern Europe they will find the Axis armies unconquerable?

That assertion was made in a Berlin broadcast, picked up by the Associated Press. A commentator was discussing invasion articles in the German army organ Die Wehrmacht. He admitted that the Allies might make a landing somewhere but declared they "would not have the slightest chance in battle against the Axis continental armies with their millions of well-trained and well-equipped troops."

Well, the answer to that is the key to the defeat which the United Nations are now in process of administering to Herr Hitler.

The Boche are arguing from a premise which might have been sound a year ago but no longer holds good. They're clutching at straws which already have been swept past them down the stream.

It is a fact—and one not to be overlooked—that the Fuehrer's most powerful weapon is his army, although what once was the mightiest fighting-machine ever put together is now showing many signs of wear and tear. It's true, too, that the Allies would be up against a terrific task if they were faced with the necessity of smashing that Nazi army with land forces alone. Hitler might be able to defend himself indefinitely.

The point is that he would be sitting inside a great defensive circle. His communications would be short and he would be able to fling his forces in any direction quickly to meet attack. All his war industries would be safe inside that ring. The Allies, on the other hand, would be striking them from the outside of the huge perimeter, and their communications would be long and difficult. Such a German defense position would be just about impregnable.

However, that's one of those "might have been" situations. As things stand, the Allies aren't compelled to crush Hitler entirely with land troops. In fact, they can do a goodly portion of the job in a much easier way. That's by bombing.

You will note that the Berlin commentator assumed his master's troops would be "well equipped." He overlooked the fact that Hitler's iron ring, for defense against a land army, renders his entire set-up vulnerable to bombing in view of the shift of the balance of air-power to the Allies.

The United Nations now can reach Hitler's communications and war industries across all parts of the circle. When they achieve their invasion of southern Europe they will add further to their facilities for reaching every Axis manufacturing center and line of communication. Air bases in northern Italy, for instance, would be a tremendous asset.

The day and night blasting which the Anglo-American and Russian air forces are administering to the Reich is stripping Hitler of his ability to keep his army "well equipped." One of these days the cumulative effect of this aerial offensive is going to hit him all of a sudden and he will find himself with a Wehrmacht which still will have great strength in manpower but will lack the arms with which to defend itself.

Then will be the time when the Allies will send their own armies marching against the Hitlerian forces. Actually, of course, the terrific aerial and naval bombardments which the United Nations are laying down against the enemy, as further evidenced in today's dispatches, are the preliminaries to invasion. That is to say, the invasion operations already are under way even though we can't foresee the exact moment of landing.

Meanwhile, with the Allies holding aerial superiority—and outright supremacy in some areas like the North African theatre—Hitler's Luftwaffe is unable to strike from within his charmed circle at the distant production centers of the United Nations. Our strength grows daily while his decreases.

SUNDAY SCRAP DRIVE COLLECTS 20,000 POUNDS

Total Brought in During Past Few Weeks Near 200,000 Pounds

While the total figures are not available, it was estimated that approximately 20,000 pounds of metal was collected in the rural areas of Fayette County Sunday afternoon, in the all out drive conducted under auspices of the Implement Dealers of Fayette County, with H. H. Denton as chairman of the implement dealers and all township officials.

However, as result of the drive, which started several weeks ago and has been worked actively by some of the townships which had owners of old metal and rubber to haul the salvage to various salvage yards, approximately 200,000 pounds of junk has been disposed of above the normal influx, according to general Chairman Maynard Craig.

Craig estimated that fully 50 trucks and an average of two men to the truck, took part in the drive Sunday afternoon, and while most of the junk was hauled to local salvage yards during the afternoon, some remains to be brought in later.

The response with trucks, by implement dealers and other business firms and by private individuals was good in every part of the townships, and some of the township officials did an excellent piece of work in rounding up salvage during the time the drive was under way.

In a few townships, reports indicate, the drive was carried out less thoroughly than in others.

Further information in connection with the drive was being collected by Denton and Craig Monday.

Trailer House—a Dream Come True

A HOUSE DIVIDED—but not for long, as two sections are quickly coupled together to become a complete house.

TINY BUT TIDY—Trailer house kitchen is as complete as it PRESTO, A HOME!—This two-section trailer house is now ready for occupancy. Stove, refrigerator, sink—they're all here. The living room here is on the side nearest the camera.

By HELEN COOKE
ELKHART, Ind. — The turtle carries his house on his back and plenty of us envy him—but we need not for long.

Jack Nelson is an engineer whose job requires that he live in remote places and move often. He and Thelma, his wife, hate to live forever among the impersonal furnishings of rented rooms.

Edith Jones likes to take the children to the lake for some summer vacations but other years a taste of country life seems more inviting. For one reason and another thousands of families wish that they could carry their homes around the country with them.

War has made their dream a reality. Government experts of the Tennessee Valley Authority faced by workers' need for adequate housing which could be moved after the completion of a project, designed a two-section trailer house that can be hauled wherever a car can go and can be assembled by two men in one day.

A Four-Room House
Each section of the house is built on a removable chassis and the halves are slid off specially-built trailers onto a concrete foundation. The sections are lined up and coupled by an arrangement known to the initiated as a spline joint. Plumbing is connected and the standard electric wiring is plugged in by a single connection. The house is ready for occupancy.

The trailer house has a floor space of 26 by 16 feet. There are four rooms, a combination living room and dining room, bedroom, bath, and kitchen. Four persons can be accommodated by making the couch in the living room into a double bed at night.

The arrangement of the house captures the fancy of every housewife. Rooms are well lighted and ventilated; four double windows cover one end of the living room. Closet space is ample and there are many built-in cupboards and drawers. Housework has been cut to a minimum by careful planning.

An Oil-Heated Home
All of the furniture is built in and the owner has only to purchase dishes and linens to set up housekeeping. In addition to beds, tables, a dressing table, stove, sink and other usual furniture, the house is fully curtained.

A gasoline stove is used for cooking and heat is obtained from an oil stove.

Trailer companies all over the country have converted to war work and are now building these trailer houses exclusively for war workers, but after victory they will be available to everyone.

Their low cost, $2,000 delivered within a radius of 200 miles of the point of manufacture, will place good housing within reach of many more families.

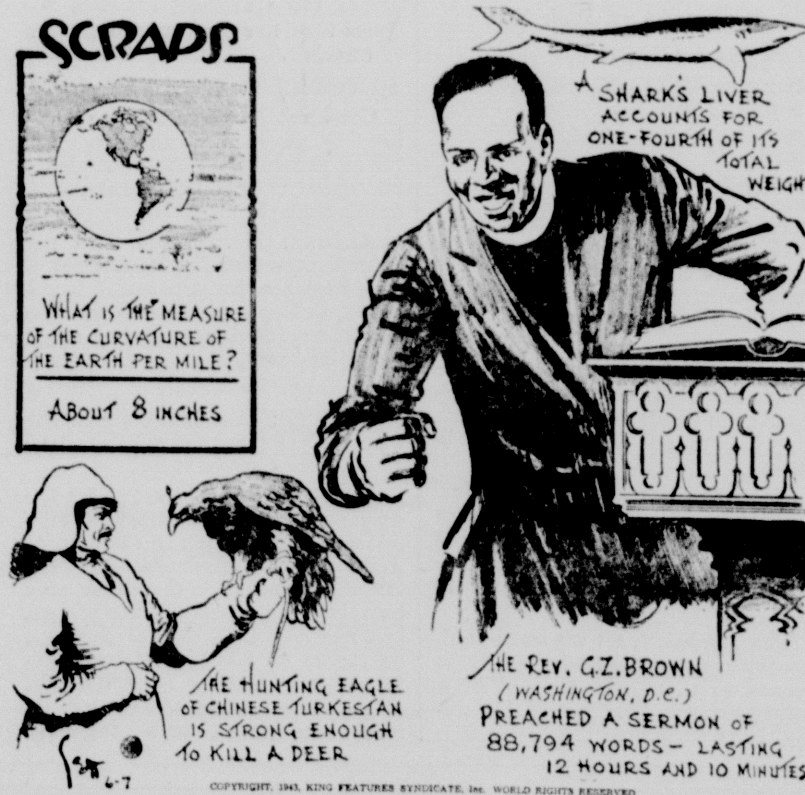

Manufacturers of the house pictured here suggest that mass production after the war will bring the cost of these homes to an even lower figure.

Then, there is the real possibility that some day a good trailer house can be picked up for a trifling sum from a used house lot!

WAR AGAINST JAPAN TO BE STEPPED UP; MORE YANKS IN NEW ZEALAND

denied supplies for fighting Japan are being neglected.

"By the end of the year our planes and ships in the Pacific will represent a very formidable force," he said. "We are really getting our share of the war material in the Pacific."

Although he declared the Japanese are on the defensive and "time is working for us now," the admiral warned that "we must do everything in our power to aid China, because we must use bases in China to attack Japan."

Action Flares Anew

The admiral's statement coincided with new outbursts of action in both the South and North Pacific.

In the Solomons American dive and torpedo bombers sank a Japanese destroyer, set fire to a cargo ship and a corvette and shot down 15 Zeros in an air battle off Bougainville Island, the navy announced yesterday. Four American planes were lost.

The Japanese version, given by the Tokyo radio today, claimed 20 Allied planes were shot down in the encounter.

In the North Pacific, the navy told of resumption of intensive air attacks on the Japanese base at Kiska in the Aleutians. Kiska was under air assault five times Friday, the communiqué said.

In the Australian theater, 16 Japanese dive bombers and four fighters made a heavy attack on the Allied mountain base of Wau in New Guinea, but caused negligible damage. American liberators attacked Koepang in Timor, causing fires.

In China, American bombers and fighters helping Chinese armies expand their victory in the upper Yangtze made widespread attacks from Ichang to Shashi, a front of 65 miles along the river, raking gunboats and troop concentrations.

The Chinese said their forces were cutting a Japanese group to pieces at Itu, 18 miles below

Ichang, after Chinese fliers had bombed the outskirts of the town, and took a number of villages in an advance on Owchikow, 60 miles southeast of Itu. They said their counter offensive was making progress toward Hwajung, key town north of Tungting Lake in the rice country.

In Burma RAF planes carried out one attack, but the rainy season had almost put a stop to operations.

Large formations of American bombers also broke through the storms Saturday and Sunday to make widespread attacks on Mandalay, Chaulk, Pukkan, Wetlet, Monywa, Sagiang and Ywating, hitting railway tracks and trains, ferry slips, oil plants and barracks.

OHIO FLOOD CONTROL PROGRAM APPROVED

Far-flung Reservoir System Would Be Created

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(AP)—Chairman Whittington (D-Miss) of the House flood control committee told army engineers to proceed with plans for repairing damaged flood control works in the Ohio River with assurance that funds would be appropriated by July 1.

Col. George R. Goethals urged the committee, planning to draft a flood control authorization bill, to approve several new works in the Washab-Olio-Monongahela river basins, including a $38,000,000 levee and channel improvements on Short Creek near Dillonvale and Adena, O., at an aggregate cost of $158,000.

Also proposed were a dam and reservoir on the Hocking River near Athens, O., at a cost of $695,000 and levee and channel improvements on Short Creek near Dillonvale and Adena, O., at an aggregate cost of $158,000.

Small seaplane tenders in the U. S. Navy usually take their names from American bays, straits and inlets.

-Spying- On Sports By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, June 7.—(AP)—The other day Col. Dick Hanley of the Marines, former big time college coach, told the Washington Touchdown Club the only good reason for football is that it helps entertain the boys overseas. If football coaches want to do a real service, said Dick, they can take the kids who never have played football and toughen 'em up. Fellows who have played the game don't need that extra training. Of course, you might argue, that's just what they do. If there wasn't any football there wouldn't be that group which is ahead of the rest in physical condition. Even though the footballers represent less than one percent of the men in the armed forces.

Double Win By Brewers Halts Indians

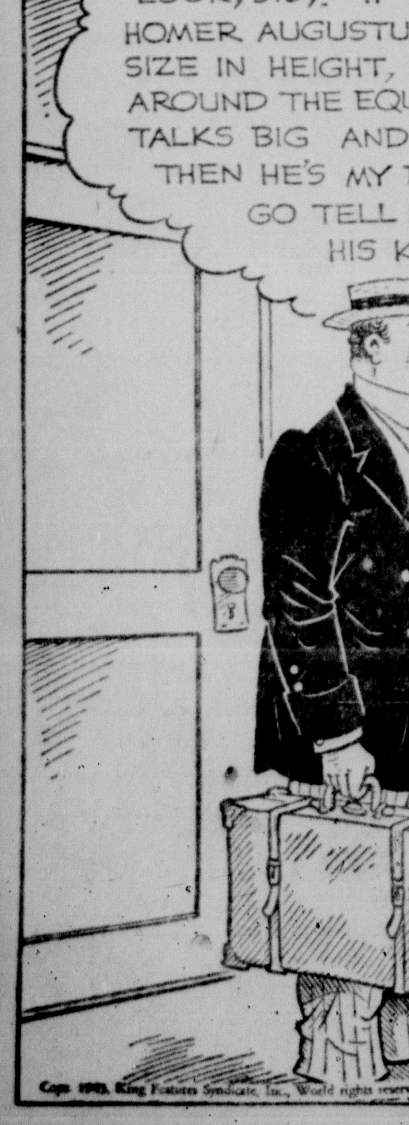

(By The Associated Press) Indianapolis' runaway in the American Association baseball race today had been checked, temporarily at least, after Milwaukee had won the honor of being the first club to sweep a doubleheader from the tribe this season. In accumulating a four-game winning streak, the Brewers showed the Indians off the war-path with 5 to 3 and 3 to 0 victories yesterday and shaved their lead from four games to three. Milwaukee's triumph gave the loop's first division standings a considerable shaking-up. The Brewers themselves moved into third place while idle Columbus moved up a notch to second. The Toledo Mudhens dropped a twin bill to the Minneapolis Millers, and fell from second to fourth. Minneapolis' double victory, by scores of 14 to 1 and 4 to 3, gave the Millers a four-game winning streak also. Two other doubleheaders, Louisville at Kansas City and Columbus at St. Paul, were postponed.

Softball Leagues To Be Formed Here--Meeting At Gardner Park

With the community recreation program daily gathering momentum and drawing more interest than the sponsors, the YM-YW and city, had dared hope, it is now all set to move into the second organizational phase--the formation of the twilight softball league--or leagues if enough of the city's workers and county's farmers want to get a little relaxation from the strain of increased wartime production. George Miraben, high school coach and head supervisor of the program in charge of the activities for boys and men, has called a meeting for 7 P. M. Monday (tonight) in the Field House at Gardner Park where the program centers. For several weeks, the word has been passed around that a twilight softball league would be organized, as in previous years, if there were a sufficient number of team sponsors. How many there will be is admittedly conjectural, but it is understood that at least three teams have been made up among the workers at the Aeronautical Products, Inc., plant that will be ready to cross bats with teams which are expected to be put on the field by several other firms in the city and farm organizations. The subordinate Granges of the county have expressed a desire to enter teams but their leaders have been fretting with some wartime restrictions, the most troublesome of which are fire conservation through gasoline rationing and a shortage of manpower which might interfere with regular participation of some of the players in the twilight when the press of farm work, such as hay making and harvest, might compel them to remain in the fields later than usual. Leaders of the program take the view that the recreation program this year has an added importance in that relaxation from the strain of wartime production, whether in factory or on farm, lends itself to greater efficiency and increased output. There are those who, citing strain-easing approved measures taken in many war plants, contend that the recreation program comes under the classification of "essential" and not "pleasure," though it undeniably is enjoyable, and, thus, would bring down no censure for car use. The managers or sponsors, or both, are expected to attend the Monday night meeting (7 P. M. at the Field House) where the formation of the leagues will be discussed with Miraben. It also

DODGERS IN DITHER AFTER LEAD IS LOST

(By The Associated Press) The Brooklyn Dodgers are out of first place and in a dither. The curious club which led the National League from the start of the season until last week-end, when it slipped into the shadow of the St. Louis Cardinals, is afflicted with a malady known as acute sensitivity of the shortstop. This has been a sore spot all the while the Dodgers have been stumbling through the west. Manager Leo Durocher has remained on the active list this season presumably just to step into situations such as this, yet has not played a single game this season. In recent days he has shuffled Arky Vaughan, Rookie Boyd Bartley and reserve catcher, Bob Bragan in and out of the job with no credit to anyone. Yesterday the Dodgers managed to beat the Chicago Cubs in the first game of a doubleheader, but were shelled 11-5 in the nightcap by misadventures by Bartley and Bragan, sharing the shortstop role. In the first game Whit Wyatt held the Bruins to four hits in 7½ innings but was removed with the score tied at 3-3 after all the Chicago counters had been scored on Dom Dallessandro's triple with the bases loaded in the first inning. Max Macon, who took Watt's place, allowed only one hit thereafter and in the 11th inning himself singled home the deciding run for a 4-3 victory. Meanwhile weather limited the Cardinals' game with the Phillies to five innings and a 1-1 tie. Their second game was postponed. Weather also forced postponement of the Boston Braves' second game at Cincinnati, but the two teams got in a 14-inning opener which the Reds finally won 4-3. In the other National League action Pittsburgh made 25 runs to the New York Giants' one in sweeping a doubleheader, 18-1 and 7-0. The New York Yankees preserved their margin in front of the American League with a pair of victories over the St. Louis Browns, 2-1 in 11 innings and 10-6. Washington's second place Senators, a game behind New York, won twice from Detroit, 5-1 and 8-4. Boston's Red Sox nosed out Chicago twice 4-3 and 3-2 with ninth-inning rallies and Cleveland divided a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics. The week-end skirmishing ended the intersectional round in the two leagues and all clubs will be idle today and tomorrow except Brooklyn and Pittsburgh, which are billed for a night game tonight on the Pirates' grounds.

Hoofbeats On the Turf

By BOB KENEFICK The largest check written out for a trotter in several years was paid this week by C. H. Wilkinson, wealthy industrialist of Logansport, Ind., to Thomas B. Graney, young horseman of Sparkhill, N. Y., for Austin Hanover, three-year-old bay colt by Scotland and figured as a contender in the $40,000 Hambletonian at Goshen, N. Y., August 11. The reported price is $15,000 and the figure is not far off because Graney had a number of offers from $5,000 to $10,000 and he said that he would not let the Reading Futurity winner of 1942 go for less than $15,000. Wilkinson, new in the harness horse game, sent the veteran trainer, Art Blackwell to Goshen with instructions to land the promising trotter no matter what the cost. After dickering Blackwell and Graney agreed upon a figure and the horse was shipped to Lexington, Ky., to join the other seven high class trotters and pacers in Blackwell's barn which are owned by Wilkinson. The curtain will be rung on the 1942 racing season next Thursday night at Frank Foster's Marion, Ohio, track when he will open his 15-night meeting with two trots, one for 2:18 and the other for 2:15 performers. The pace for the opening night will be the 2:25 event. Horses are flocking into the Marion grounds daily and Foster, famous the world over for his sulkies, is confident that he will have big fields and that there will be a new record made for wagering in the mutuels in Marion. Foster will stage a free-for-all trot on June 17 and a free-for-all pace on June 19. Steve Phillips, rated by many as the greatest starter in the country, will give the word "Go" each night. Ed. Keller, Cincinnati, general manager; C. W. Phellis, Green-wich, Conn., secretary-treasurer and Matt Nelson, Cleveland, track superintendent of the Horseman's Trotting Club sponsoring the $140,000 23-day meeting at North Randall starting Tuesday, June 29, have been pulling their hair out because the weather man has been so unkind to them in Cleveland. Since May 1 Nelson has had a big force of men ready to go to work and prepare a lightning-fast track for the ace horses and horsemen that are to invade the Forest City, but it has rained practically every day and he has been held up on his work. However, he believes that it can't rain forever and hopes to have the track in fine shape shortly. Just as soon as the track is ready word will be given for the horse-men to come on here. Ohio is still the top-ranking state with fairs staging harness horse races. Mrs. Don A. Detrick of Bellefontaine, Ohio, secretary of the Ohio Fairs, today announced that there would be 65 harness horse meetings at Ohio Fairs and that several others are still undecided whether they will go ahead with meets this year.

Jinx Broken As Reds Win Sunday Game

CINCINNATI, June 7.—(AP)—Something had to give as the Cincinnati Reds went into the tenth inning deadlocked with the Boston Braves at three all in the first game of yesterday's scheduled doubleheader. (Weather conditions halted the second game in the first inning.) Up until yesterday the Reds had not won a Sunday game this season. Counterintuitively, they had not lost a single overtime affair this year--winning four over the extra inning route. From the tenth on, after McCormick had tied up the game in the ninth with a home run, it was a question which of these two marks would be cast asunder. The answer came in the last of the fourteenth off the bat of Cincinnati Shortstop Eddie Miller. With one out and the bases loaded, Miller patterned his third single of the game to bring Frank McCormick, Red first baseman across the plate with the game clincher. The game was a pitcher's battle between righthander, Elmer Riddle and the Braves' hardluck champion, Nate Andrews. The Reds will spend the next three days playing teams of the armed forces. They are scheduled to meet Camp Atterbury, Ind., tomorrow, Camp Benjamin Harrison, Ind., Wednesday and the Great Lakes Naval Station, Great Lakes, Ill., Thursday, returning to the National League was Friday in the first of four games against the Chicago Cubs in the Windy City.

Reds Get Fielder From Phillies To Open Cub Series

CINCINNATI, June 7.—(AP)—Dain Clay, twenty-three-year-old outfielder, obtained by the Cincinnati Reds yesterday in a deal with Bill Cox, owner of the Philadelphia Phillies, will join the Reds when they open a four game series with the Chicago Cubs in the Windy city Friday, Redleg General Manager Warren C. Giles said today. Giles announced he traded Charlie Brewster, reserve infielder, for Clay. Hitting about 230 this year for Rochester in the international league, Clay was traded to the Phils last week along with Coaker Triplett and Buster Adams by the Cardinal Organization in exchange for Danny Litwhiler and Earl Naylor.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, June 7.—Wheat moved with a narrow range today, showing an easy undertone most of the session on moderate holding and some selling caused by reports of more favorable weather in the winter wheat belt, trade was estimated in view of uncertainty regarding the loan rate on the 1943 crop. Oats No. 1 closed up above Saturday's finish on unfavorable crop news, but the rally ran into considerable profit-taking and prices soon dropped back. Oats displayed independent strength, aided by strong demand for all feed grains and a slow movement to market. Wheat closed at about the lows, off 3-4, July $1.44 1/4, September $1.44 1/4, corn was unchanged, July $1.05, oats were 1/4 lower to 3/4 higher and rye finished 1/4-1/2 lower.

CAUSED FAMILY TEMPEST IN TEAPOT

Hollywood studio pictures like the one above caused the slight difference of opinion between Georgia university's football ace, Frankie Sinkwich, and his wife over the question of a movie career. Mrs. Sinkwich is pictured, right above, with Comedian Lou Costello and Dot Weatherly. Mrs. Sinkwich's sister, who also was tested by the studio. The girls' somewhat abbreviated costumes at first caused the athlete to ban a future in the movies, but later he relented and said Mrs. Sinkwich might return with him to Hollywood for screen appearances.

THREE ARRESTED HERE FOR CRIME AT ROAD HOUSE

Robert Davis Alleged To Have Shot Woman Who
Then Shot Him

Robert Davis, 27, and William Davis, 32, are now being held by the Dayton and Montgomery County authorities in connection with the shooting of Mrs. Lou Hearn, head of the Duke Ranch night club near Dayton, while robbery of the woman's apartments is alleged to have been under way.

Robert Davis, a bullet wound through his left shoulder and a bullet in his left lung, was treated at Dr. J. H. Persinger's office a week ago Saturday morning, then sent to Hillsboro Hospital, after he had said the shooting had occurred at his home on East Temple Street and was due to the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of his brother.

It developed, according to the officers, that Davis was shot, allegedly while robbing the apartments of Mrs. Hearn at the night club, about 3 A. M. on Saturday morning, May 29.

It was during the alleged robbery that Mrs. Hearn shot Davis according to the officers, and herself was shot through the right leg between the hip and knee.

Mrs. Hearn was taken to a Dayton hospital, but so far as known did not reveal the identity of Davis until last week, when she learned he was wounded and in the Hillsboro Hospital.

Then she notified the authorities at Dayton and speedy action was obtained.

Deputy Sheriff L. Weidel, of Montgomery County, and Detectives Sgt. C. C. Croft, veteran of the Dayton police force, and R. C. Grundish came here Saturday afternoon and took Davis and his wife into custody. They were assisted by Capt. Jess Ellis.

Davis, who had been brought to Washington C. H. Friday from the Hillsboro hospital and ordered to stay in bed for six weeks, was taken into custody at his home, placed in the Klever ambulance, which the officers had called, and taken to Dayton, where he was placed in the Miami Valley Hospital under guard.

The officers left word for the police here to arrest William Davis, of Springfield, if he returned here. He was taken into custody over the week end, and turned over to the Dayton authorities as an accessory to the crime.

It seems that Robert Davis' wife had worked at the Duke Ranch night club and Davis was familiar with the place, and Mrs. Hearn recognized him when she found him in her apartments.

PLAN REGIONAL RURAL MEETING

Session at Wilmington on June 17-18 for Rural Life Study

A Regional conference on rural life to be held at Wilmington College, June 17-18, will bring together an able group of leaders and resource persons. Care is being used to provide persons who can be helpful to rural ministers, parents, farm and village residents and teachers and others who work with young people.

Among the leaders will be Lynn Rohrbough, farmer and recreation specialist who lives near Delaware, Ohio. A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and of Boston Theological Seminary, Mr. Rohrbough had planned to enter the mission field. However, a study of the recreation needs of families and community groups convinced him there was great need to strengthen family ties and to bring neighborhood groups together in wholesome surroundings.

Rohrbough and his wife Katherine began work in Chicago, but in 1930 they moved to a farm near Delaware. Here they have carried on their work of research writing and demonstrating folk games, songs and family recreation. Their recreation workshop is really a mecca, where people come to get help in recreation supervision, from all over North America. Friends in the foreign fields of missions have sent them sketches and rules for scores of folk games from almost every part of the world. Some of the board games such as Dutch Tactics, Nine Men's Morris are hundreds of years old. The Rohrboughs have encouraged people to make their own games, using good native woods, such as walnut and cherry.

The officers left word for the police here to arrest William Davis, of Springfield, if he returned here. He was taken into custody over the week end, and turned over to the Dayton authorities as an accessory to the crime.

It seems that Robert Davis' wife had worked at the Duke Ranch night club and Davis was familiar with the place, and Mrs. Hearn recognized him when she found him in her apartments.

SHOW INCREASE IN SALES TAX

Fayette County Gain So Far
This Year Leads All
Neighbors

Up to May 22 total sales of pre-paid sales tax stamps in Fayette County this year reached $46,315.80 compared with $40,167 for the same period last year.

For the week ending May 22, total sales reached $2,641.53 and a year ago for the same period the amount was $2,558.80. The gain in Fayette County has been greater this year than in any of the surrounding counties regardless of size.

While there was a gain in Fayette County for the above mentioned week, the loss in state was $35,602.77, according to Treasurer of State, Don H. Ebricht.

Total sales for the last collection period in Ohio totaled $976,914.70 as against $1,012,517.47, while to date during the present calendar year sales have amounted to $19,997,819.25 as compared with $20,335,204.31 during the same period of 1942. Treasurer of State Ebricht pointed out.

The largest single gain to be recorded during the last collection period was in the general classification, which soared from $119,129.57 to $150,170.69, a difference of $31,041.12. Meanwhile, the apparel group continued to show increased strength, with men's clothing moving up from $22,704.44 to $27,882.47; women's apparel, from $26,228.64 to $30,400.99 and shoes from $15,083.05 to $17,373.36. In the chain store classification, however, apparel sales receded, dropping back from $65,678.37 to $74,843.05.

OIL CATCHBASINS TO KILL MOSQUITOES

The work of oiling catchbasins to kill mosquitoes before they develop from eggs laid in the water of the basins, was started a day or two ago, and will be continued at intervals.

Meanwhile many mosquitoes are causing a great deal of annoyance in part of the city, due to continued rains which provided a breeding place in rain barrels, tin cans and other containers.

The use of cosmetics can be traced to 500 B. C.

SAMUEL FUGATE BADLY WOUNDED AT MIDDLETOWN

Former Resident Probably Fatally Shot During Argument

Samuel H. Fugate, 43, guard at Wright Field, and formerly of Washington C. H., is in the Middletown Hospital in a very critical condition, with a .38 calibre pistol wound in his intestines, inflicted by Gilbert Jones, 36, a neighbor, during an argument, according to police.

There were 12 punctures of the intestines made by the bullet, an examination disclosed.

According to the police the Fugate home at 1303 Young St., is directly across the street from the Jones home. Jones is a guard at a war plant in Middletown, and Mrs. Jones is employed at a plant in Middletown.

Police said that Jones had a girl relative caring for his children, and Fugate, who works at night, complained that the children made so much noise during sleeping hours that he could not rest, so he went over to the Jones home.

There he engaged in an argument with the two women, whereupon Jones awakened, and entered the dispute, drawing his pistol and shooting Fugate.

Jones is being held in city prison at Middletown.

LITTLE CHATS ON PUBLIC NOTICES

By JAMES E. POLLARD

Safety In Delay

A man who has recently been through the settlement of two small estates is puzzled and somewhat irked at the time required. The affairs of both decedents were in good order, both left valid wills, there were no disputes and no particular complications. Yet one estate took more than two years to settle and the other more than one.

These being his first direct experience in such matters, he is inclined to blame the delays on needless red tape. In this he is mistaken. Possibly the time could have been shortened for these estates, but the law purposely—and wisely—fixes a minimum time in such matters.

A common purpose here is for the publication in local newspapers of general circulation of several Public Notices concerning each estate. One has to do with the appointment of the administrator, others with the presentation of any claims, and ultimately the final settlement. All this takes time but it is done to give maximum protection to all concerned.

FARMERS BUSY DURING SUNDAY BEFORE STORMS

Corn Now Nearly Eighty Percent Planted in County

In most of Fayette County many farmers were busy Sunday, planting corn and soybeans or conditioning their soil for planting.

One of the heaviest rains of the season swept over southern Fayette County Saturday afternoon, and another rainfall, unusually heavy, occurred over a large portion of the county late Sunday afternoon, .34 of an inch of rain falling here.

In the path of both rains, farm work was halted for two or three days.

However at the present time approximately 80 percent of the corn has been planted, and several thousands of acres of soybeans have been planted.

Two of the three light tractors made available for farm use by the State Highway Department in Fayette County, have been placed in use in the county, and calls for the third one to be used as soon as weather permits, have been made.
